Warzone VR, the Arcade Guideline

For arcade vendors interested in setting Warzone VR up for multiplayer play, following the steps below will get you up and running quickly.

1. Install the game on all the machines that will be running it.
2. Launch the game and navigate to the “Register” tab to create an account. This must be done on each system. For your convenience, assign an additive username such as “Arcade_01”, 02, 03 and so on. The format and contents of the username structure are to be decided between you and Viveport.
3. When you’ve finished registering an account on each device, log in to them if not already logged in. Be sure to enable the feature on the log-in screen that auto-logs you in whenever the game is launched again (enabled by default). Once in, you’ll find a starter account with the same things that consumers start with.
4. Send us an email to: sinn@sinnstudio.com with a list of usernames that you’ve registered for your arcade(s). We will take over and give all of those accounts in-game money that will allow them to access all of the content immediately.
5. After receiving confirmation from us that the currency has been added to the accounts, you will need to log back into the game one last time to quickly unlock everything. This process is fairly quick and there aren’t too many items. Simply navigate the Shop and purchase everything.

Players can then access the Barracks to customize their characters for a quick and fun experience not requiring labor-intensive progression.
